

Genesis

DEAR FRIENDS,

I write to you immediately after the conclusion of the highly successful 57th edition of the Hunt Country Stable Tour. I have always thought of the weekend as about being more than raising funds to assist our outreach ministries. It is also an opportunity to exercise the ministry of hospitality. Led by those who so generously open their farms and other venues for us, we welcome people from all over the world to the beauty of God’s creation represented by our region. This year, as I listened to the joy and appreciation shared by our guests, I realized that there was another ministry at work here. It was, and is, the ministry of healing. It may have been the chance to get outdoors after a long, wet spring. It may be the turbulent times in which we are living. Whatever the case, the time spent in the beauty of our community clearly was having a cleansing effect. Many, many thanks to our Chair, Gina Hammond, staff member Betsy Crenshaw, and to each of you who volunteered to make this a most memorable tour!

As we enter into June, I want to make sure you are aware of some important transitions here at Trinity. First, Beth Rogers has stepped down as Parish Administrator after eight years of service. Beth helped us in so many ways and did some great and innovative work on our behalf. I want to take this opportunity to thank her for her ministry and wish her well in the next chapters of life. Beth and her family will be in our prayers.

Rachel Shows (now Rickenbaker), our Assistant Rector, joins us on June 1st. I know that she will want to meet all of you as soon as possible. She will be taking part in both services starting this Sunday, June 5th. I ask that you make every effort to be here on Sunday in order to extend to her a warm Trinity welcome. Rachel will be ordained a deacon at St. Paul’s, Alexandria at 10:30am on Saturday, June 11th. A number of us are planning on attending. Please let me know if you would like to join us.

Finally, the summer season calls us to be out of doors enjoying the greatest cathedral we have ever known. To that end, please mark your calendars for the cookouts scheduled for Tuesdays June 14th, July 26th, and September 13th at our outdoor council ring. The conversations are always delightful and the food perfection! I will see you out there.

Here’s to a summer of rest, renewal, and healing!

Faithfully in Christ,

The Rev. Rob Banse

P.S. Rachel will be ordained a deacon on Saturday, June 11th. Please be on the lookout for further information. It would be great if a sizable contingent from Trinity were there to support her.

A REPORT FROM S.O.M.E.

It is often reported that the 29-year old SOME program at Trinity could not thrive without the generosity of our congregation. Be it prayerful support, help in the kitchen, traveling to DC, or making brownies, we would never manage to feed so many people over the years for so little money so consistently.

For our May effort, one parishioner deserves special mention. Gar Royer arrived in the Trinity parking lot as we were preparing the van for departure and handed over several loaves of freshly baked sourdough bread, still warm from the oven. Gar has mastered yeast bread, composed simply of yeast, flour, and water, featuring an egg white wash and sprinkled with pretzel salt. Not only did the SOME guests rave about this bread, but the Trinity staff fortunate enough to taste it were blown away. It was determined that Gar could give any professional bakery a boost with his skills. We were blessed with other contributions from Jackie Eldridge, Sean Daly and Gina Hammond, among others.

Over 300 diners enjoyed our traditional battered fish lunch. The SOME kitchen was not in the best of shape, with one oven down and an ongoing plumbing issue that forced the closure of some main equipment. There was also no ice available. Lunch was served on paper plates. But in the single working sink, trusty dishwasher Mark Thompson overcame the messy serving pans, several left over from previous meals, with nary a complaint.

Joining Mark in the kitchen were: Jim Gemmer; John MacDonnell; Bob Appenzeller and Len Shapiro. The dessert station and serving line were capably managed by Nicky Perry, Mary MacDonnell and Ann MacLeod. Robin Keys also assisted.

Our beloved vegetable washer Sara Sisk was unable to join us in the kitchen the previous day and she was sorely missed. We also received an able assist from Tommy Breeden, who helped cart in the cooking supplies from Schenck Foods and loaded the van to DC, and from Betsy Crenshaw, who ordered our milk.

We will be returning to SOME on Friday July 15, 2016. This is our only summer service and we invite any youth over the age of 13 to join us in Washington, DC or in Cox Hall, Thursday, July 14, to chop vegetables. We promise you will personally find grace and glory in this outreach effort.

VESTRY NOTES

Our Vestry met on Wednesday, May 18th for its monthly meeting. The minutes for the meeting will be filed and will be available for your review.

Let me start by saying we are very excited to have our new Assistant Rector, Rachel, join our team this month. We look forward to working and growing with Rachel. Particularly as we continue to develop our goal to re-establish, improve and enhance our Children/Youth and Family ministries. Welcome Rachel!!

Then- let me say this – Stable Tour, Stable Tour, Stable Tour!! I think it will be done by the time this note gets out so if you helped, thank you VERY much. If you were not able to this year, we hope that you will be able to join in next year. It's always a great time and there are some really beautiful farms that we don't get to poke around otherwise. Of course, that's not to mention that the proceeds funds our outreach efforts so it's really a big deal in our life at Trinity. Lastly- if you want to take a turn at being the 2017 Stable Tour Chair, please let me or any Vestry member know.

So we received our usual finance update from our Treasurer, Carol Miller. I want to give Carol a shout out for the wonderful support she is providing to the Vestry and to Trinity. Particularly as we begin the search for a new Parish Administrator, Carol has been spending a significant number of extra hours at the church making sure we stay on top of all financial matters. We remain in a good financial position. Next month we will be making our annual adjustment to the 2016 budget to account for pledges not received as planned and a few other necessary adjustments. At this point, no issues are anticipated. We will make the adjusted budget available to all as soon as it is finalized.

Issues from the Finance Committee included the recommendation to adopt a revised Gift Acceptance Policy to include a gift form that will be completed by donors. The Policy was accepted by Vestry. It will ensure that received gifts are handled correctly and there is a record of the donor's wishes. Finance Committee also reported that there was significant discussion at their May meeting regarding handling of financial matters while we are without a Parish Administrator – see the paragraph above as the key here again is Carol!

Outreach committee reported that they have approved distributions to local programs in the amount of $33,000 and national/international programs for $3,000. They continue to meet regularly in order to discuss and analyze other fund requests to be sure that we are supporting worthwhile causes. To list a few, we have supported Piedmont Child Care Center, Churches of Upperville, ESL, SOME, Mobile Hope Loudoun and Kairos Prison Ministry. We will be asking for presentations from some of these organizations so you can all know more about them.

Never to be forgotten, our B+G Committee has been busily making repairs across the Trinity campus. Some you can see- refinished floors in Cox Hall, new fridge in the kitchen, Cox Hall and Peard House trim painting. Others you can't- foundation grading, heating system pump/valve replacements. We continue to work on getting Gulick House rented. During the heavy rains, there was a leak discovered in the roof which was promptly repaired. Once the interior dries out, it should be able to be shown again to potential renters.

Just so you know- Vestry will be holding a mini retreat on June 12th to continue working on our goal of Shepherding as we reported at the last Congregational Update. We will also start working with Rachel on the ministries assigned to her.

I think that should be it for this month.
Thank you again for your prayers and engagement.

In faith,

Jim Gemmer
Senior Warden

THANK YOU!

Teresa Law has been making, sorting and boxing our Stable Tour sandwiches for years. She is given a list of all the Trinity volunteers and farm personnel and then she and her family go to work. The result are her delicious sandwich lunches for all of us to enjoy. We are so very grateful to Teresa and we were delighted to learn that she has a new helper, her grandchild, Brooklyn.

57th Annual Hunt Country Stable Tour

It is with great appreciation that I thank the farm owners, and all our volunteers who helped to make the 57th Hunt Country Stable Tour a wonderful success. I also thank all of you who prayed so hard for beautiful weather which the Lord granted us for our event. To date, our net profits exceed $50,500. I am hopeful that the figure will go a little higher as we account for final expenses.

Our Stable Tour typically has over $18,000 in expenses. The generosity of over 70 patrons provided us $20,000. An additional $4,000 was received in donations, including personal gifts from each current Vestry member to fund our Volunteer Party. I wish to thank Lori Connelly-DeFranco who put on the beautiful and inviting Country Fair raising over $1,000 in vendor payments. Marilyn Bigelow helped to secure over $8,000 in ads for our Program Brochure. Finally, Sydney and Ellen Hall graciously paid for and arranged delivery of all the lunches needed by our Trinity Volunteers and the farm workers.

The Hunt Country Stable Tour takes a lot of hard work from over 125 Trinity volunteers. But the rewards are great. Our Outreach Committee is eagerly awaiting news of our total proceeds. Through their conscientious efforts they will help to ensure that we are able to share Christ's love by addressing some of the many needs in our community, in our nation and abroad.

WELL DONE, GOOD AND FAITHFUL SERVANTS!!!

Gina Hammond, Chair

IN CELEBRATION OF PAUL MELLON

The National Gallery of Art (NGA) is having a special exhibit of 80 drawings, watercolors, pastels, prints and illustrated books donated to the NGA by Paul Mellon. These works on paper, due to their sensitivity to light, are rarely on exhibit which is one reason why this exhibit is special.

A second reason why this exhibit is of particular interest to us at Trinity is that there are wonderful quotes from Mellon on the walls. You feel like you get to know the man: why he collected art, what it meant to him, how he liked to take his hammer and nails to change the pictures on the walls, and so forth. You feel like he is having a conversation with you as you see the exhibit. You have all summer to go, the exhibit ends on September 18, but going sooner is better than later. Open 7 days/week from 10-6.

Along with this exhibit the NGA has put out a brochure entitled: "A Lasting Legacy." In it are the floor plans to the rooms which hold Paul and Bunny Mellon's donated paintings along with Mellons' comments about the most important of these works of art.

If you would feel more comfortable being guided to the museum and through the Mellon galleries, Ray Ewing and Penelope Youngblut would be happy to guide you leaving after the 10:30 church service on Sunday, July 17 or Sunday, July 24. If interested, please let us know at penelope.yungblut@icloud.com.

Little known facts about Trinity Episcopal Church— Upperville, VA

The Stained Glass Window Restoration

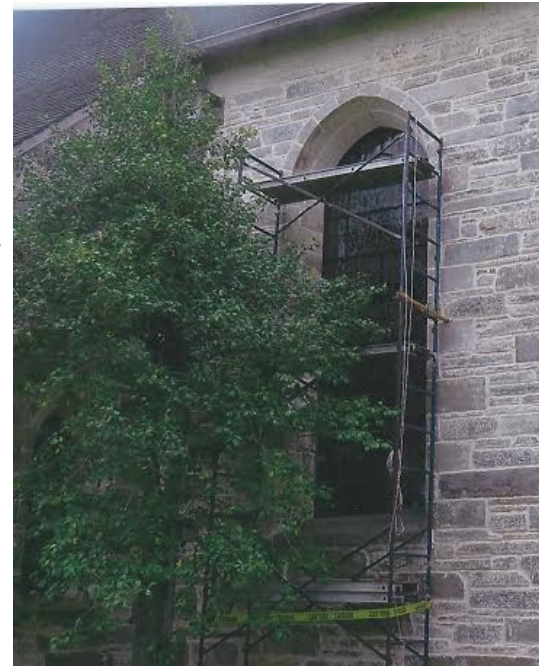

Since some very obvious restoration work is in progress, it is a wonderful opportunity to remind everyone of the ongoing repairs and restoration at Trinity. As with any building over fifty years old, we continue to have repairs that are necessary for the operation of the Trinity buildings and normally these repairs or restorations are un-noticed by the casual visitor.

Now there is scaffolding in the church nave, thus it may be obvious that restoration work is being done to our magnificent stained-glass windows. After the original church construction, these windows were unprotected on the outside. In the early 1980's, it was recommended a clear plastic covering should be added to the outside of each irreplaceable stained-glass window in the church for protection from storms and to help contain some heat loss. This special plastic was soon installed and served for a number of years.

After time, the plastic began to deteriorate and became a smoky, semi-opaque covering that did not allow the true color of the windows to be seen and was not as strong or protective as when originally installed. In the 1990's, a new state-of-the-art plastic covering replaced the old one and the windows were again viewed in their original magnificence.

Time and weather have again had their deteriorating effects and the windows are undergoing their most intensive restoration. Tempered glass will now cover the outside of the windows and the colors of the windows should be true for many years to come.

As a Small World item: The COO of the company performing the restoration, apprenticed with the Willet Stained Glass Studio of Philadelphia, PA. This company made the stained glass windows in the north transept.

Thrift Shop Boutique Sale

The Trinity Church Thrift Shop held it's Annual Boutique Sale over the Memorial Day weekend in conjunction with the Hunt Country Stable Tour. They hosted a huge crowd of enthusiastic shoppers, come who came to a Friday Night Preview Sale. At the conclusion of the three-and-a-half day sale, the Thrift Shop concluded the Bountiful, Boutique Sale with a profit of over $7,000.00. All the proceeds from the Thrift Shop go to help our friends and neighbors in the Upperville community. With the enormous success of the sale, the shop will be able to help so many in need. The Thrift Shop Board President, Cindy Thompson and her capable helpers, daughters Maura and Maegann, and Nancy Phenicie, who spent countless hours preparing for the sale. Thank you so much to all involved with The Thrift Shop! The funds generated will do so much good in our community.

FROM THE ASSISTANT RECTOR

Dear People of Trinity Church,

As Paul so often greeted the early churches, so I will greet you: Grace and peace to you! I am very excited to have begun serving at Trinity this month, and I am finding there are already plenty of things to see and learn and do! In the last two weeks of May, I graduated from Virginia Seminary, was married to my husband James, enjoyed a week of R&R and rainforest exploration in Costa Rica, moved to Stafford, and began my first week at Trinity. Many people have asked, "How do you do it all?" My answer: "Lots of patience, prayer, and taking things one day at a time."

I find that my life is particularly fitting within this Pentecost season of the Church, in which we as Christians are reminded that we are not alone, even though Jesus has ascended to the Father. The Holy Spirit is given to us as a gift of God's presence here with us, breathing, moving within and among us, and transforming our lives. If we take the time to stop, breathe, and listen, we are reminded that the Holy Spirit is always at work in our own lives and in the lives of our communities.

As the school year comes to a close and many of us begin to make summer plans, it can be easy to lose touch with our church community. I would encourage us all to remember that no matter where we go and what we do, we each need continual nourishment for our faith, through communal worship, by enjoying time in and out of the church building with members of the community, through prayer, devotional time, and taking time to enjoy the beauty of God's creation. Remember that as the Spirit moves amongst us within the Church walls, so the Spirit drives us out into the world to be the Body of Christ. We live and testify to the good news of God in Christ through the very ways we share our faith with others in our words and actions, not just at church but as the Church in the world. Much of my work after I am ordained a deacon on June 11th will be to help connect the people of Trinity with many of the concerns of the community and the world. I look forward, with God's help and your help, to serve amongst you!

I am excited to see where the Holy Spirit is already working and where we can join in that work here at Trinity. I look forward to meeting many of you soon! Feel free to say hello on Sunday mornings or stop by the office during the week. I would love to get to meet you!

Peace,

Rachel Rickenbaker

THE SEARCH IS ON!

“Vestry”, a strange term, for all practical purposes limited to the Episcopal Church. Try to explain it to your friends, sometime. Other denominations describe their lay leadership as Church Council, a nice easy title. By the way, while we’re talking about confusing terms, we should also note that, even though we call our two top lay leaders “wardens”, we wish to assure the whole world that we are nothing like those other institutions that are managed by wardens ... The bottom line is that every institution, including Trinity Upperville, needs competent and dedicated leaders. In the Episcopal tradition, we raise up our lay leadership from within the parish membership - the congregation. We look for members who are committed Christians, willing to spend three years serving God and their fellow parishioners.

The vestry is responsible for managing the affairs of the church, including the finances, buildings and grounds, and facilities. Each vestry member serves as a liaison to, or leader of, one of the many committees and programs that keep Trinity running smoothly. We prepare the budgets, oversee the expenditures, and set the goals, priorities, and policies of the parish. In short, we manage the business of the church. That’s a very big job, and we are blessed to have the work distributed among the twelve members of the vestry. It is certainly an honor to serve on the vestry, but it is definitely not an honorary position. We are a working vestry.

So, why would anyone volunteer for such a demanding position? Because it offers an opportunity to serve: serve God, serve our church, and serve our fellow parishioners. Serving on the vestry requires a serious commitment, but the reward is great. You can rest assured that you will be deeply touched by the work you do and your efforts will deeply touch others. You will gain a much better understanding of how and why Trinity Upperville functions, and you will rest easy in the certain knowledge that you are doing God’s work right here in your own time and place. God’s work is a heavy load and you will have stepped up to the plate and done your share to carry that load. Serving on the vestry is a great responsibility with a greater reward - ask any current or former vestry member.

So, at the annual meeting next Fall, four people will be elected to serve terms of three years each. If you might be interested in serving, or you would like to nominate someone else, please submit names to the nominating committee listed below, or any vestry member.

HEALING MINISTRY ANNOUNCEMENT

Beginning June 5th, 2016, the Healing Ministry will begin doing healing prayer after communion during the 10:30 service once a month during the summer.

They will continue doing healing prayer at the 8:00 service monthly as well.

They will continue to pray for prayer cards and parish prayer lists every Monday afternoon, so keep your prayer requests coming.

If anyone needs hands on prayer at any time and in any place during the summer, call Ginny Fluet at 540-869-0858 or email me at vfluet@verizon.net.

Regular weekly healing prayer will resume at the 10:30 service on September 11th.

NOTES FROM CHRISTIAN

It is always a relief to make it to June when things finally start to quiet down around the church and community. This month of May, however, has been the storm before the calm, filled with end of season events, lots of special music, and, of course, preparations for the annual Stable Tour. This year's May storm was further complicated by the departure of our Parish Administrator and the rush to cover all of her duties before a replacement can be found. Many faithful volunteers have leapt into service including my multi-talented wife, Brittany, who has produced this beautiful edition of Genesis. Jim Gemmer, Ellen Hall, Gina and Jim Hammond, and Carole Miller have all spent countless hours figuring out and performing various facets of the Administrator's job, and many others have spent afternoons in the office answering the phones. All their efforts have truly been inspiring and many thanks go out to these folks who have risen to the occasion to keep the church running smoothly.

In my 25 years at Trinity Church, I have seen quite a few staff people come and go, and thus I have witnessed this same scenario of covering their duties played out many times before. Each time there is a different set of volunteers rising to the occasion but there is always one constant. At the helm of the life raft, in storm after storm, is Betsy Crenshaw...unflappable, unsinkable, and often unsung. There is no single person who knows even close as much about the operation of Trinity Church as Betsy nor who is involved in as many aspects of its daily functioning. I could never begin to list all the things that Betsy does around here even in normal times. No matter what gap needs to be covered, Betsy has always been there to fill the void. Often she knows exactly what to do. When she doesn't, she figures it out. She does what needs to be done, puts in countless extra hours, and on top of everything else, makes all the other people helping out feel appreciated. I could not ask for a better captain in any storm than Rob, our endlessly kind and patient Rector, but we all know that behind every great leader is the person who always makes sure that everything gets done. For the last quarter of a century, in all kinds of weather, that person has been Betsy Crenshaw. I really, really don't know what we would do without her and we all owe her a tremendous debt of gratitude.

Thank you Betsy!

TRINITY CHORISTER PERFORMING

Are you interested in going to a Dinner Theater? Our own Trinity Chorister, Briggs Williamson, is currently performing in The Music of Andrew Lloyd Webber at Riverside Center in Fredericksburg VA. Brigg's mother, Martha Williamson, is able to get discounted tickets. Tickets are normally $60/person but she can get them for $45/person. More information is available on the Riverside Center website: <http://riversidedt.com>.

If you are interested in attending, please call/text Martha at 304.283.1593. Please provide her your name, the date of the show you wish to attend, and the approximate number of people in your party.

If there is enough interest, we may be able to arrange for group transportation. Help us support this fine representative of Trinity's Youth!
