A Message of New Life from Trinity Episcopal Church

November 2014

Dear Friends,

November is a month of transition. The growing season is drawing to a close. Leaves are falling from the trees. The days are getting shorter. Much of God's creation is preparing for a long winter's nap. I can tell that my bees are hunkering down in hope of making it through to spring.

Our calendar here at Trinity also reflects this time of change. On Sunday, November 2nd, we will celebrate that great feast of All Saints. We will give thanks to God for the lives of all the faithful who have gone before us, most especially those who have died in the past year. We will also pray together about what God's call to saintly living means for each one of us during our own journey in faith.

On Sunday, November 9th, we will bring to God's altar our financial commitments for 2015. This is the time of year when we prayerfully work to faithfully "close the books" on this year's support of our mission and ministries while simultaneously giving our Vestry a clear sense of what we can expect and hope for after the 31st of December. I ask again that you carefully consider this very important spiritual discipline and join in making the commitment on the 9th.

The Rt. Rev. Susan Goff will join us for worship for the very first time on Sunday, November 16th. Please note the change of the schedule for that day. In order to be of help to her, we will celebrate our principal service at 3:00pm. Thus, there will not be a 10:30am service on the 16th. Bishop Goff is a wonderful preacher and the Cathedral Brass will again be joining us. It will be a great celebration. Please make this adjustment to your calendar immediately.

The end of the month brings us to the celebration of Thanksgiving and the beginning of the holy season of Advent. As is our tradition, we will gather with our sisters and brothers from the other congregations in the village at 7:30pm on Wednesday evening, November 26th at the Upperville Baptist Church. A reception will follow. This is, for me, one of the highlights of each year and a powerful reminder of what giving thanks is truly all about. I hope that you can join us.

Advent marks the start of a new year in the life of the Church. It is a season in which we are called once again to quiet ourselves, look to heaven, and ponder anew that moment in history when God came down and joined us in flesh and blood. It is the season dedicated to preparing our hearts and minds for the celebration of Christ's birth, while at the same, remembering he has promised that, one day, he will come again. I invite you to join in the Sunday services of Advent, the Advent Program that will be held on Monday evenings, December 1, 8, and 15, and the hour of prayer offered every Tuesday evening from 5 until 6pm. On Tuesdays during Advent, we will begin in the church with the daily office of Evening Prayer and then will make our way under night skies to the outdoor chapel for a time of silent reflection and meditation. Who knows? Perhaps we will encounter a few magi along the way.

May God bless you and keep you in these November days and nights.

Faithfully yours in Christ,

The Rev. Rob Banse

Annual Meeting

On October 5th we gathered for Holy Eucharist Rite II at 9:30 a.m. Following this service we went outside to the Bishop's Garden to enjoy fellowship, great food, fun, and our Annual Meeting.

Vestry Notes

Becky Hoecker, Senior Warden

The Vestry met on Wednesday, October 15th. The Rector offered opening prayers, which were followed by the recitation of the Lord's Prayer. The Rector welcomed the four new members of the Vestry who were elected at the Annual Meeting on Sunday, October 5th: Barbara Conner, Jim Gemmer, Susan Grayson, and Dan Murphy. The Rector instructed the Vestry on his expectations and the duties of the Vestry members.

Following the Rector's instructions, the new Vestry signed the Oath of Allegiance, a canonical requirement that states: "I do believe the Holy Scriptures of the Old and New Testament to be the Word of God, and to contain all things necessary to salvation; and I do yield my hearty assent and approbation to the doctrines, worship and discipline of the Episcopal Church; and I promise that I will faithfully execute the office of Vestry member of Trinity Episcopal Church, in Region XIII, in the County of Fauquier, according to my best knowledge and skill."

New officers were then elected: Becky Hoecker, Senior Warden; Gina Hammond, Junior Warden; Charles Ince, re-elected as Treasurer; and Mark Thompson, re-elected as Registrar.

Greg Ellison offered an interesting Bible study on the life and theology of Irenaeus, a 2nd Century theologian and bishop.

The minutes of the September 17, 2014, meeting were unanimously approved.

Charles Ince gave a brief treasurer's report. He went through a summary of the Balance Sheet, Profit and Loss, and Unbudgeted Outreach YTD reports. He also answered questions by new Vestry members regarding the budget.

The reaction to the new Annual Meeting format was very positive and the meeting was considered a big success. The Vestry agreed the combination of the Annual Meeting with the Country Fair should be considered again next year.

The Rector raised the issue of the ramifications of the Supreme Court not taking up same sex marriages, thus making same sex marriage legal in Virginia, as well as in other states. He distributed "A Letter from the Bishop: On Same-Sex Marriage." (The letter may be found on the Diocesan website: www.thediocese.net) He said he had already received requests for consultations from faithful members of our congregation who are interested in discussing a same sex marriage to be conducted at Trinity. Rob said we are now compelled as a church to discuss the current and future procedures in this matter. He also distributed "Guidelines for Clergy for reasonable requests through the end of the year. The request was unanimously approved.

Rob reminded the Vestry that the Region XIII Pig Roast to be hosted by Trinity on November 1st is for the benefit of St. Gabriel's in Leesburg. Bishop Ted Gulick will be invited to attend as he lives within Region XIII and takes a close interest in all its parishes.

Gina Hammond gave a report on the Stewardship Campaign. Letters to the congregation announcing the theme and schedule for this year's campaign will go out in the next few days. Gina is once again leading the Stewardship Committee and is being assisted by Joe Fluet.

The Buildings and Grounds Committee requested approval for $2400 for funding of tree pruning work. The Vestry voted unanimously to approve the request. The work will be done by Autumn Tree Care Company.

Gina Hammond thanked her fellow Vestry members as well as staff and members of the congregation for their many efforts and support during her year as Senior Warden. She said she was deeply grateful for the opportunity to serve as Senior Warden and pledged to serve faithfully as the new Junior Warden.

Becky Hoecker thanked the Vestry for electing her as Senior Warden. She promised to work diligently and faithfully, and said she greatly looked forward to working with the Rector, as he leads Trinity, and with the new Vestry that promises to be dynamic, thoughtful, and dedicated.

The Rector reiterated that same sex marriage is an issue that will require considerate and sober discussions about how we will proceed. We will have challenging days ahead, but the church will continue in its mission to serve all its members.

The discussions will continue at the Vestry retreat with the opening dinner at The Hunter's Head on Friday night, October 18th, and a day long session at the home of Becky Hoecker, on Saturday, October 19th.

The meeting adjourned and Rob offered a closing prayer.

and Congregations Regarding Marriage of Same-Sex Couples in the Diocese of Virginia" (also available on the Diocesan website). After much discussion, it was agreed unanimously that the congregation should participate in the conversation and that meetings should be held for that purpose. The Vestry agreed to discuss the issue further at the upcoming retreat.

Our tenants in the Gulick House will be moving out by November 1st. Further options for the property will be discussed at the next meeting.

The Outreach Committee requested funding for several organizations. Bob Appenzeller presented the request: Helping Haitian Angels, $1200; English as a Second Language, $315.28; So Others Might Eat, $1200; and Mount Pisgah, $2500. Bob said a small amount of funding will remain in their budget

Aww Shucks! Thank you!

Trinity Church played a huge part in the 30th Anniversary Celebration of one of its greatest projects: The Piedmont Child Care Center. On October 11th, nearly 200 people gathered to celebrate the amazing legacy of this time-honored organization. We had incredible oysters, barbecue, hot dogs, beer, wine and spirits. Speaking of spirit there was a tent full, as past students, parents, employees and board members visited with each other and reconnected with the beloved director Alice Duggan. The celebration started with an invocation by The Rev. Rob Banse, followed by Mistress of Ceremonies, Mary Lou Leipheimer recalling the "old days" at Piedmont. Past graduates, Erica Lindgren and Charles Ellison spoke fondly of their time at Piedmont. The party goers were overjoyed as Alice received a kayak as a gift for all those years of service to the education, care and nurturing of children. The remarks ended with a rewritten rendition of "Margaritaville", led by the band Troy and Paula celebrating Alice's life. The event was very successful raising nearly $17,000.00 for the John Levis Scholarship Fund. Thank you, Trinity Church. Susan McCaskey, chair, promises another Oyster Roast next year, so let the celebration continue!

Bishop's Quarters Bedroom

Did You Know?

Little known facts about Trinity Episcopal Church – Upperville, VA

Since we described the Bishop's Garden last month, we will continue with another area on the Trinity campus historically referred to as the Bishop's Quarters. Many of us know the Stable Tour office is in what was, at one time the garage for the Rectory (now the Peard House) but did you realize there is an apartment beside and above the garage/office? This has been known as the Bishop's Quarters and was used to house visiting clergy on special occasions, in the Rector's absence or whenever the Bishop made his annual visitation. The ground floor was a small living room and the upstairs has a small kitchen, bedroom and full bathroom. This was very handy during a time when there were very few hotels or guest houses in the area and the roads were not conducive to high speed travel as they are now. Currently the downstairs area serves as the office for the Trinity Cemetery and the upstairs is used occasionally for guests of Trinity.

~Gray Coyner

Horses, hounds, and riders of The Piedmont Hunt gathered with The Rev. Rob Banse for their annual blessing on Oct. 25th at the Trinity Outdoor Sanctuary.

Family Ministries

Friends,
It has been very hard for me to think about what to write for this month's "Genesis." I find myself pondering thoughts about Thanksgiving and upcoming events. Most often for me being thankful is something I always am, but I don't always do my best to vocalize it; to my wife, the church, the youth. And as I thought about the upcoming holiday season, all I could think about was my recent trip to Guatemala City and the experiences I had there.

It was in the midst of my return from Guatemala that my home began to "fall apart" so to speak. I got word from my wife about a toilet leaking through the ceiling, and the dishwasher leaving puddles of water on the floor. All I could think to myself was "welcome back John". Then, without reserve, I returned to the thought of my recent stay in a country that is in so much want and need.

Then, after thinking about my trip, I returned to the thoughts of the upcoming Thanksgiving Holiday. It was in that moment that I realized how much I truly have to be thankful for. A leaky toilet or dishwasher all of a sudden didn't seem so bad, after all, at least I have running water. I will have an extraordinary meal on the table with "all the fixin's" and eat leftovers for a week, just because I have the means and the opportunity.

We may struggle from time to time, but here in the United States we almost always have the means and the opportunity. It's what we do with the opportunities we have that make or break that moment in life for us.

Then, thinking about opportunity, a thought came to mind about opportunities here at Trinity and how they've been approached, received, and executed. Our youth and children have approached, received, and executed our past youth services, and have done so with great success.

Our youth preachers, greeters, acolytes, and chalice bearers have all done an incredible job and that's something to be thankful for. So, as we approach thanksgiving, find someone in our church community and, not only give thanks for them, but vocalize it to them. Especially our sensational youth members!

Stewardship

Our financial stewardship efforts are now in full swing. Joe Fluet has delivered a wonderful lay sermon, commitment cards are in the mail and the Rector will address us on Sunday November 2, as we celebrate All Saints' Day.

How many saints do you have in your lives? I can think of many clergy, teachers and friends that I would call saints. From them I have learned many wonderful lessons. However I'd like to share with you a little about a dear friend, Grace Neiderlander. Grace was my former next-door neighbor as I grew up. She and her husband were founding members of my home parish, Calvary Episcopal Church in Williamsville NY. She used to tell me stories of the early days of the church, when resources were meager. But the church community was faithful, and as World War II ended, the congregation grew. The little stucco church two blocks away from my home could no longer handle the crowds, so a new church was built. Grace and her husband, Dan, were instrumental in the new construction. Dan wisely oversaw the building, making sure the foundation was strong. Good materials were used everywhere but there were no extras, no stained glass windows, or fancy carvings. If the church wanted to add these later on, that would be fine.

Dan unfortunately died of a massive heart attack during my junior year in high school. After that I spent many a Friday afternoon visiting with Grace. When I left for college, we continued to correspond, and when I returned home to attend graduate school, I would work for Grace each weekend so her evening caregiver could have time off. When the caregiver retired, I moved in with Grace and spent the next thirteen years at her home until I married Jim.

Grace gave me wise counsel about Walking the Way with Christ. She told me I would feel great joy if I gave 10% to the church. I should also save another 10% for a rainy day. And so I established my first budget under these premises. If you make these items your first payments when you receive your paycheck, you learn to budget the other 80% to meet your needs. Grace gave of her generosity, and it so doing, provided me a true understanding of the joy of giving.

Each of us will take a different path as we walk our way with Christ. All that we have in life is a gift from God. If you haven't already established specific ways in which you are sharing your gifts, you might want to follow the advice that Grace gave me. I can assure you that your life will be richly blessed.

Please remember that our 2015 Stewardship Commitments will be collected at both services on Sunday, November 9, 2014.

Faithfully in Christ,
Gina Hammond
Stewardship Chair

Wachet Auf! (Wake up!)

Once upon a time there were ten virgins (yes, it was a very long time ago) who took their lamps and went to meet the bridegroom. Five of them were foolish and five were wise. For when the foolish took their lamps, they took no oil with them; but the wise took flasks of oil with their lamps. As the bridegroom was delayed, they all slumbered and slept. But at midnight there was a cry, "Behold the bridegroom! Come out to meet him." Then all those virgins rose and trimmed their lamps. And the foolish said to the wise, "give us some of your oil, for our lamps are going out." But the wise replied, "perhaps there will not be enough for us and for you; go rather to the dealers and buy for yourselves." And while they went to buy, the bridegroom came, and those who were ready went in with him to the marriage feast; and the door was shut. Afterward the other virgins came also, saying, "Lord, lord, open to us." But he replied, "truly, I say to you, I do not know you." Watch therefore, for you know neither the day nor the hour.

More than 2000 years ago, Jesus told this story as recorded in Matthew chapter 25. Some 1600 years later, in 1599, Philipp Nicolai, a pastor in Westphalia Germany, composed a poetic paraphrase in German of this Gospel passage and set it to a chorale tune. Many more years passed until the great composer, J.S. Bach, in 1731, took the Nicolai tune and text and greatly expanded it into his cantata #140 "Wachet Auf" which he composed in Leipzig for the 27th Sunday after Trinity when the original Gospel passage is the appointed lesson. It is a somewhat rare occurrence as this lesson only appears in year A of the three year lectionary and then only when Easter is early enough for there to be 27 Sundays after Trinity.

Still another almost three centuries later, the parable of the wise and foolish virgins is appointed this year on Sunday Nov. 9 when the Trinity choir will sing this story again as they present portions of this great Bach Cantata, and the congregational hymn #61 on which it is based, during the 10:30 worship service. Like the wise virgins, we hope you are ready.

And they all lived happily ever after...
